2024 Hot Water Forum & Hot Air Forum

Atlanta, GA | March 12–14

The 2024 Hot Water Forum (HWF) is the premier technical conference dedicated to efficiently producing, distributing, using, and reusing hot water. Since its inception in 2008, this two-day conference has brought together seasoned experts and newcomers to exchange knowledge.

Additionally, ACEEE presents the second Hot Air Forum (HAF), focusing on decarbonizing space heating in buildings of all kinds through heat pumps. Both conferences will explore how these industries can reduce greenhouse gas emissions, improve grid resilience, and center equity.

POLICY FORUM

2024 Energy Efficiency Policy Forum

Washington, DC | December 3

ACEEE's 2024 Energy Efficiency Policy Forum will bring together a diverse group of speakers from across government, industry, and advocacy groups to discuss opportunities and challenges for energy efficiency policy at the dawn of a new presidential term and the 119th Congress.

The Inflation Reduction Act and the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law have driven the largest federal investments in energy efficiency in U.S. history. We'll look at successes and challenges in their rollout and at lessons on how to improve these programs.
